BACKGROUND

The Suburban Collection Showplace is home of the Michigan State Fair and is conveniently located at 46100 Grand River Avenue, between Novi and Beck Road in Novi, MI. The Suburban Collection Showplace can be accessed from I-96 at the Novi and Beck Road exits.

There is a powerful groundswell of strong “can-do” attitude that has been rising across Michigan these past few years. As a community, we are being compelled to re-think many old ideas about the way our missions are accomplished. We believe that the Michigan State Fair, LLC is a prime example of this paradigm shift. The original Michigan State Fair was one of the state’s most venerable traditions and public sector events, since 1905—but in recent years it had struggled financially and was eventually discontinued.

At nearly the exact same time, however, a new grass-roots movement toward—and interest in—the great natural resources, agriculture, cottage industry, food and beverages, farm-to-table produce and similar endeavors has been dawning across the state. As many old career paths have shifted or ended, waves of new businesses are being born here. The new Michigan State Fair is now being produced as a private sector event at the Suburban Collection Showplace, now with presenting sponsor Ram Trucks, and zero state funding. The Fair’s goal is to celebrate and encourage the fresh new direction of the Michigan Agriculture Industry, while also maintaining the beloved traditions of our grand old State Fair.

The Michigan State Fair has always been an integral part of our community, and has traditionally supported a wide spectrum of philanthropic efforts. It also has enjoyed a long-standing partnership with Detroit’s Moslem Temple Shriners, the founders of the first Shrine Circus back in 1906. When Fairgoers purchase an all-inclusive pass to attend the State Fair, one third of the proceeds are donated to the Shriners local organization, who in turn contribute so much to Michigan charities, including their notable support of children and families being treated by their Shriners Hospitals for Children®.

CREDENTIALS

We are pleased to assist local, regional and national journalists with interviews, accreditation and general information regarding the Michigan State Fair, a private entity, LLC.

Each media representative covering the State Fair is required to complete a media credential application. Email your completed application to media@michiganstatefairLLC.com and our media relations contacts will contact you to confirm receipt and give further instructions.

Pre-arranged applications for credentials will be accepted through Monday, August 31st, 2020.
